ACCESS CAPITAL ADVISERS APPOINTS NEW HEAD OF OFFICE & HEAD OF INFRASTRUCTURE

Access Capital Advisers (Access) CEO, Alexander Austin, announced today that Partner, Kui Ng, will lead the firm's Sydney office and Partner, Tom Snow will become sole head of Infrastructure in Australasia.

"Kui has been head of Access' Property Group over the last 2 years and has been leading our investment sourcing, investment execution and asset management efforts for Property assets over that time. Prior to joining Access, Kui gained extensive investment banking and other financial services experience over a 10 year period.

"Tom joined the firm in early 2009 and has over 9 years' experience in the management of infrastructure assets and investment management. As joint head of the Access Infrastructure Group, Tom has led the origination team for Infrastructure Group Australasia over the past 12 months along with sharing responsibility for the asset management of Australian infrastructure assets."

Kui and Tom's appointments follow the decision of Karen Chester to leave Access for a direct asset management role with Mercer.

"Access employs over 50 investment professionals across offices in Australia, London and New York with over A$6 billion in alternative assets under advice and management. "
